Terms of Payment

Saint Leo University is an accredited US institution, therefore all prices are shown in US dollars (USD), unless otherwise noted.

Payments (whether a monthly plan, full payment in advance, or other available methods) must be made as required prior to the first day of class for the course in which the student has registered.

In addition to tuition, students are responsible for paying any applicable fees, including graduation fees. Saint Leo University strives to keep these costs as reasonable as possible for its students.

To maximize security, Saint Leo University does not store credit card details; only external payment providers do.

Course prices are subject to change at any time without prior notice. The payment options and promotions available to students can also change at any time. Check out the Student Support Center to find the updated payment options for your country.

Full tuition payments

Students who pay full price for a course or course package are not eligible to apply for new discounts on previous purchases. They can select discounts or promotions for future courses, if available.

Promotional or discounted payments

Promotional offers and discounts are available for a limited period only. Promotions and discounts cannot be combined; Only one promotion or discount can be applied to a purchase. See the specific promotion for details, such as requirements and availability.

Students who drop out of more than 3 courses will be considered "dropouts" of the degree and, in the case of retaking courses, they will have lost their right to any previous promotion or discount price. Students will have to wait and choose a new promotion, if available, when they resume classes.

In the case of students who accept the promotion of a course with free registration, they will only be able to continue with their academic work after making the required payments. Note: Tuition-free courses are limited-time offerings and availability is not guaranteed for each academic term or for each program offered by Saint Leo University.
